

NARRATIVE PRACTICES ADELAIDE

Skills Training in Adelaide with Maggie Carey and Shona Russell

Level One Intensive: November 2-6 2009

The focus of this intensive training is to provide an opportunity for practitioners from a range of fields including social work, psychology, and community work to explore narrative therapy approaches to their work. The Level 1 workshop will provide a sound base for those who are new to narrative practice as well as an opportunity to build on skills and understandings for people who have previous knowledge. The course will include explorations of:

- Key ideas of narrative therapy
- Locating narrative therapy in a context
- The narrative metaphor and how stories shape us
- A review of the micro maps of narrative therapy
- The role of externalising conversations with individuals, families and groups
- Re- Authoring conversations through rich story development
- Intentional understandings of identity
- Creating an audience for preferred story development
- The narrative approach in work with individuals, families, groups and communities.

This intensive workshop will offer participants a thorough immersion in the application of the micro maps of narrative practice as described by Michael White. Maggie and Shona will use illustrations from their own work along with structured exercises and group discussion as a way of supporting participants to engage with narrative practice. The emphasis will be on developing skills in using the narrative approach and how this might apply in a variety of settings.

These intensives will have a maximum of 12 participants as we aim to foster a spirit of collaborative exploration in our teaching and to maximize opportunity for questions and discussion.
